This entire range includes structures made from lacquered HEL (High Elastic Limit) steel tubing. High elastic limit steels have excellent functional properties such as suitability for cold-pressing, forming and welding. They also have a high level of strength. Powder coated finish (100% polyester powder, excellent UV resistance).

Frame in HLE (High tension) galvanised steel tubing Ø 25mm (anti-corrosion treatment). Powder coated finish (100% polyester powder, excellent UV resistance).

This range with aluminium alloy frames is very light and resists corrosion completely.

These tables feature «HPL» (High Pressure Laminate), a compact laminate specially designed for outdoor use that outperforms comparable products on the market. HPL is extensively used nowadays as facing material in the building industry because of its extreme durability.

Key features of HPL:

- Resistance.
- Dimensional stability and warp-resistance: insensitive to changes in temperature and relative humidity.
- Light-fast colours (UV-resistant).
- Easy to clean: non-porous, stain-resistant.
- Heat-resistant (up to 180 °C) unflamable.
- Hygienic: food-safe (EN 1186 standard-compliant).
